

Operations Management fundamentals.

Little's Law: average inventory equals throughput times flow time, $I = R \times T$.

The bottleneck is the resource with the least capacity; it sets process capacity.

Utilization equals throughput divided by capacity. Cycle time is time between completion